MARTY MARTIN, JD MPA SPEAKER AND PRESS BIO STATEMENT

Marty Martin, JD MPA, Martin Law Firm, Raleigh, North Carolina, focuses his practice on providing legal services and training related to nonprofit and tax exempt organizations. He helps these groups achieve their mission by combining his unique combination of a lawyer's skills, a nonprofit practitioner's experience, and advanced training in nonprofit organizations.

Martin serves on the national Internal Revenue Service's Advisory Committee for Tax-Exempt and Government Entities (ACT). He is an instructor with the Duke Nonprofit Management Certificate program and is affiliated with North Carolina State University's Institute for Nonprofits. He is a frequent speaker and trainer for nonprofit organizations and is the author of "The Nonprofit Mentor" blog.

Martin received a Master in Public Administration (MPA) degree with a concentration in managing nonprofit and public sector organization from the Harvard Kennedy School and a Juris Doctorate (JD) degree from Western New England University School of Law.

He has completed advanced training in nonprofit organizations from: Harvard Business School's Initiative on Social Enterprise; Harvard Kennedy School's Hauser Center for Nonprofit Organizations; Duke University's Nonprofit Management Program; Center for Creative Leadership; and BoardSource.
